Prison Offense for Companies to Contribute Money for Elections.

HEAVY PENALTY NAMED.

Inquiry to Determine Federal Government's Power Over Concerns.

DEPEW GIVES UP OFFICE.

Senator Resigns from the Equitable Board and Thirteen New Members Are Elected.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—A bill prohibiting the use of the money of insurance companies in federal elections was introduced today by Senator Culberson.

The offense is made a felony and punishment is fixed at from two to twenty years imprisonment.

The Senate adopted without debate a resolution directing the Committee on the Judiciary to inquire into and report to the Senate whether under the Constitution Congress has authority to supervise marine, fire and life insurance.

A despatch from Washington announces that Senator Chauncey M. Depew has resigned from the Board of Directors of the Equitable Life Assurance Society. A meeting of the board was held today, at No. 120 Broadway, and thirteen new directors were chosen.

President Paul Morton confirmed the report of Senator Depew's resignation. He said the letter was dated Dec. 4 and consisted of one sentence, which read: "I hereby tender my resignation as director of the Equitable Life Assurance Society."

Under the present charter the Equitable elects thirteen of the fifty-two directors every year. Justice Morgan J. O'Brien and George Westinghouse cast the vote of the Board of Trustees—consisting of themselves and Grover Cleveland—for the ticket selected. About a dozen stockholders voted for the trustees ticket.

New Directors Chosen.

The following directors were elected: Sir William Mather, representing the Society's British policyholders; Alexander C. Humphreys and J. Edward Swannstrom, of New York, and Thomas Randolph, of Missouri. Those four were elected to fill vacancies. Nine others were re-elected, George P. Victor, Walter K. Pierce, Thomas T. Eckert, Daniel A. Tompkins, J. DeWitt Cuyler, Thomas Spratt, Frank S. Witherspoon, James McMahon and Eben H. Thomas.

All these nine with the exception of Mr. Eckert and Mr. Cuyler, are, however, new members of the board, having recently been elected to fill vacancies to represent policyholders.

Sir William Mather is the head of the Bradford Iron Works at Manchester, England, and a former member of Parliament. Mr. Humphreys is president of the Stevens Institute, of Hoboken, and is distinguished as an engineer and educator. Mr. Swannstrom is a former President of Brooklyn and former President of the Brooklyn Board of Education and at present President of the Home Trust Company of Brooklyn. Mr. Randolph is President of the Commercial Trust Company of St. Louis, to which city he recently moved from Sherman, Tex., where he was in the banking business.

All of the new directors are policyholders of the society and were nominated by Grover Cleveland and his co-trustees.

Senate Resignation Next?

Late last week a persistent report was current in political circles that Senator Depew had prepared his letter of resignation from the United States Senate. He was deeply hurt by the sharp criticism of his actions in the press of this State, and the report said that he intended to quit politics and go abroad for a long stay.

In the light of events to-day it would appear that the resignation of Senator Depew from the Board of Directors of the Equitable was mistaken to mean his resignation from the Senate.

Senator Depew is among the last of the old directory of the Equitable to go. Several of the Hyde-Alexander re-elected directors remain, but they were not active in the affairs of the company as Senator Depew was. It is believed that they will follow the junior Senator from life insurance.

MURDERER PATRICK ON HIS WAY TO SENTENCE.

In the inquiry chamber a beautiful woman of middle age, who has been a close watcher and interested listener of the proceedings ever since the Hughes probe was put into the Mutual Reserve Fund Insurance Company.

Miss Charlotte Kiser is her name, and she has a story to tell about the Mutual Reserve which in all likelihood will be brought from her lips on the witness stand.

Miss Kiser declares that the desire to see the Burnhams punished—the Burnhams who control the Mutual Reserve—is the motive of her presence at the inquiry. She is the daughter of a man who served long as a clerk in the old Court of Common Pleas and later as a clerk in the Supreme Court. She died in 1928 and was one of the first policyholders of the Mutual Reserve. Her husband, George Burnham, told us the callous story of the insurance and included two pieces of insurance.

Long and Weary Delay.

"When my father died," Miss Kiser told a reporter of The Evening World today, "we expected, of course, to get the insurance on his life. The policy was worth $25,000. He died in 1928. They kept us waiting until the following October for a settlement. George Burnham told us—the callous story of the insurance and included two pieces of insurance."

"When it came to settling we were handed $3,500. We were told that was the interest on what my father had paid in. I think he began paying in 1907."

"I asked Mr. Burnham why he could not let us have the principal and offered them the interest. 'No,' he said, 'you take the interest. We will keep the principal.'"

"Then we sued the company as orphans. We lost the case. When the trial was all over George Burnham said to me: 'I thought you were going to beat us, but you have lost. The case has been a green judge on the bench. It was we who used to use all our influence, and at that it cost us $2,500 for law.'"

"All I want done is to have these people brought to justice—exhibited to the community as they are. There are many other cases like mine."

Doubts Burnham's illness.

"I have known the Burnhams for many years—the family—and you can't make me believe that Frederick A. Burnham, president of the Mutual Reserve under the will of the former executive of the company, the late E. B. Harper, George Burnham is now coming in from the Mutual Reserve company."

Information reached the Mutual Reserve today that when the Canadian Patrons in 1904 President Burnham escaped the committee's informant said Burnham didn't return until "things had quieted down in Canada." This is understood that the committee may appoint a medical examiner of its own to judge for it whether Burnham is in condition to testify either from the witness stand or through a deposition. George D. Squire, former financial manager of the Equitable Life and one of its "yellow dog" handlers, is "too weak mentally and physically" to take the witness stand, but the committee has the general expense account. This $15,000 was a fee for legal services rendered in connection with the passage of the bill at Albany under which the Mutual Reserve was reorganized and re-incorporated.

Attached to the voucher of Tracy, Boardman & Platt was a note which said the firm had drafted an amendment to the insurance laws. This amendment was necessary before the Mutual Reserve could become "a level premium company."

This admission was forced from the firm by the fact that while Canada holds under government control a deposit of $200,000 to protect Canadian policyholders against loss, there is only $200,000 deposited in the insurance department of New York. The remainder of the sum is in a $1,000 St. Louis City bond deposited with the Missouri Insurance Department.

No money belonging to these deposits is available as an asset, yet the Mutual Reserve for years has been swelling its list of assets with these items.

clerk's return and the tally sheets, it is manifest, I think, that they are then in precisely the same situation as they were on election night before filling out and signing the original statement of the canvass and certified copies thereof.

As Court Views Record.

"If that be so, it follows that on the record required by the statute to discover their mistake, they not only would have the right, but it would be their duty, to reject from the count any void ballots that had been previously overlooked or erroneously counted."

"If this question were now presented to the courts for the first time we would be guided by our own judgment, as herein hastily, briefly and imperfectly indicated, and vacate the order upon the ground that it is unauthorized, for that is our firm conviction. To permit such proceedings by mandamus means the destruction of the elaborate scheme worked out by degrees by successive legislatures to secure a prompt and simultaneous count and declaration of the result on election night."

"It will substitute therefor by decision of the court a preselected tactical canvass of the votes in federal election district of the State. The resulting delay, uncertainty and public anxiety can readily be foreseen."

"It appears, however, that a majority of the members of the Court of Appeals in People ex rel. Beink v. Way (175 N. Y. 174, 175, 176, in a dissent, expressed the opinion that mandamus would lie to compel a compliance on the part of the inspectors with this very provision of Section 5 of the Election Law, and the Appellate Division in the Second Department, within the boundaries of which are very many election districts wherein these same candidates were voted for and wherein the same question may arise, has decided in a case not distinguishable in principle from the one at bar that this remedy exists to compel the performance of said statutory duty (Matter of Stiles, 99 App. Div. 280)."

Wants Case Appealed.

"We therefore feel constrained to follow the decision of the Second Department. But as we regard its decision unsound, a song of proceedings should be granted to the end that before the inspectors are obliged to comply therewith by the Court of Appeals may, on an appeal from our order, which should be taken and brought on for argument immediately, definitely decide this question of such great public importance."

NEW ORLEANS TURF WAR IN MIX-UP

Fights Within Rival Organizations Muddle Things—Good Card at Fair Grounds.

(Special to The Evening World.)

FAIR GROUNDS, NEW ORLEANS, La., Dec. 6.—There was a decrease of one book in the ring at the Fair Grounds this afternoon, only thirteen layers posting odds. The play was heavy, but this card was made up of very ordinary horses. The course was fast and the weather ideal.

Edward Corrigan, who is largely interested in the New Orleans Jockey Club, has left here. Rumor has it that he and Joseph Murphy, the secretary and handicapper at City Park, are not on any too friendly terms. Rather than have an open rupture Corrigan, so it is said, decided to leave.

President C. S. Bush, of the Crescent City Jockey Club and one of the leading stewards of the Western Jockey Club, arrived home today from Chicago, where he was on Sunday to attend the meeting of the Crescent City Jockey Club. Mr. Bush stated that there was not a possibility for peace unless the New Orleans Jockey Club would agree to either sell or lease their plant to the Crescent City Jockey Club. Mr. Bush stated that the Crescent City Jockey Club has a half million dollars to carry on the present turf war.

The meeting of the New Orleans Jockey Club, which was held last night, according to facts that are coming out today, was not as harmonious as was given out. Lieut. Gov. Sanders, who is the attorney for the New Orleans Jockey Club, made direct charges to H. D. (Curley) Brown, the man that promoted and built the City Park track.

Lieut. Gov. Sanders, it is said, shook his fingers in Brown's face and called him a traitor. Things from all accounts looked a bit equally for a while.

The scratches at the Fair Grounds were as follows: Fruit in first race, Arab May in third, Lady Chiswick, Guiding Star and Sonnet in fourth, and Dolinda in fifth.

CANADIAN MOB THROWS EGGS AT BERNHARDT

Quebec People Object to Interview She Gave on World Politics.

MISSILES MISSED HER.

One, However, Struck Fur Cap of Mr. Mix, Actor in Her Company.

ACTION IS CONDEMNED.

Ire of Loyal Citizens Aroused by Views She Expressed on International Affairs.

QUEBEC, Dec. 6.—Sarah Bernhardt's knowledge of world politics and her disposition to discourse upon the same made her the target for a shower of eggs as she left the stage door of the Auditorium after the performance last night. The divine Sarah turned sideways to the eggs and was not struck, but one particularly virulent piece of hen fruit landed in such manner as to arouse suspicion that he fur cap of one of her supporters, Mr. Mix, was manufactured of the skin of a polecat if he ventures to wear it again this season.

A crowd followed the sleigh bearing Miss Bernhardt and her company to the railway station, where more eggs were thrown. Several of the missiles landed, but none upon the divine Sarah, of whom it has been written that "an empty cab drove up and Sarah Bernhardt stepped out." The egg-throwers who were waiting her at the train say the same thing about the sleigh she used.

Miss Bernhardt graciously granted an interview to the newspaper reporters at Montreal at her hotel yesterday afternoon. In the course of her remarks as they appeared to L'Evenement, an afternoon paper, there was much to arouse the ire of Canadians who love the King, and who handle all kinds of remedies to claim that they are victors and strength-creators. We do this because we are druggists, and it is our business to study the mind with what they want.

ROYAL TONIC

Our well-known druggists, Wm. B. Riker & Son Co., are very enthusiastic over the delicious cod liver oil preparation, which contains no oil, no sugar, no salt, and is a member of the above firm. "We sell many tonics, and we handle all kinds of remedies to claim that they are victors and strength-creators. We do this because we are druggists, and it is our business to study the mind with what they want."

When our advice is asked, however, in regard to a tonic, body-builder or strength-creator, we invariably recommend Vinol, as we know of nothing that can compare with it.

"In Vinol modern science has given us all of the tonic, body-building and strength-creating of that famous old remedy, cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cod's livers, without a drop of the obnoxious and system-clogging grease which characterizes old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, and which has proved such a drawback."

"Vinol is not a patent medicine, as the label on each bottle clearly states, but it contains, therefore you know exactly what you are taking."

"In the most natural manner it tones up the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, makes rich, red blood, and strengthens every organ in the body. It works as nature intended. It is strong that we gladly offer to refund the money in every case where it fails to give satisfaction."

DOWNY SPURTS IN LEAD FOR RACE BUT HE IS CAUGHT.

for the time being. It apparently extended for the purpose of winning the $50 prize offered by the management for the team leading the greatest number of laps between noon and 6 P. M.

It was evidently Keegan and Logan's turn this afternoon, for while Fogler, Bedell and McLean made no effort to take the lead from Keegan and Logan, they would not apparently let any one else do so. At 4 o'clock there was no chance for any one to beat the Irish team for the $50 prize. To-night it may be the turn of some other men in the combination.

An expert who some years ago was one of the fastest men on the amateur circuit said to-day:

Says Bedells Will Win.

"The Bedell brothers will win this race, sure. They have as much speed as any one and now that they have a lap gained no one will ever get away from them. I should consider them one of the most dangerous teams the Belgium-Holland pair, for the reason that Stoll, of Holland, is the fastest man ever met over for this race. Vanderstuyt has not as much speed as his partner, but is very game and will stand a long drive. You have probably noticed that the foreigners have never been out in front making pace. They have always been trailing the Dutch. They have been handled with better judgment than over before. I believe that if the Belgium team can repeat the lost lap that Stoll can win out in the final sprint on Saturday night, but the Bedells will not let any one get away from them now. Of course the men may team up and play a few tricks, but that is not probable."

That the Bedells will take no chances now was evident from the watchfulness of Johnny Bedell during the morning hours. He held in behind the leaders, but on the outside of the rail, ready to jump at a moment's notice.

Hall Breaks Collar Bone.

Tommy Hall, the noted little English fighter, broke his collar-bone and was otherwise injured in a smash-up to-day. Without one of the riders in the morning team withdrew from the race at 8:30 o'clock on account of stomach trouble.

Two Teams Drop Out.

Johnny Bedell certainly rode as he never did before. This great sprinting killed off two of the teams in the morning race. Harry Payne Whitney has taken a great interest in the contest, and in several of the riders' quarters it was said he had offered the prize to Bedell. The management of the race could not verify the report.

The French team of Trousseller and De Camp became so disoriented after losing three laps during Bedell's sprint that they retired from the race. An hour later another team withdrew from the race, making two that quit the contest during the morning. The second team which dropped out was the Old England-New England team, composed of Tommy Hall, the little English rider, and Matt Downey, of Boston.

racers, broke his collar-bone and was otherwise injured in a smash-up to-day. Without one of the riders in the morning team withdrew from the race at 8:30 o'clock on account of stomach trouble.

As Achorn, his partner, was able to ride, the management promptly got Matt Downey to team-up with Achorn, and they took the morning's score, which was three laps behind the Bedell Brothers, who were leading.

The motive which led the Bedell boys to get the lap, it is said, was an offer of $500, which a rich young society man made to Johnny Bedell in his dressing-room shortly before 12 o'clock. If he got a lap on the other riders he was to receive $300.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 6.—Vice-President Fairbanks to-day received a telegram from Senator Mitchell, of Oregon, resigning the chairmanship of the Senate Committee on Inter-Oceanic Canals.
